

Student Examination Timetable - EXSUM19 - May - June 2019 Exams (Summer Term)

1221352/3 SARKAR, ARGHA Computer Science Fully Enrolled for this session
Year of Study: M1 G5PA Data Analytics

You are advised to print out your personal timetable and take it with you to your examinations. Seating plans are no longer posted outside the examination rooms, you will find your seat number listed on your timetable.

Reading Time: If an examination has 15 minutes reading time, this will be marked with 'R'. The start times will be 09:10 for morning examinations and 13:40 for afternoon examinations.

Open Book examinations: If an examination is open book, it will be marked with 'OB'. You should check with the Department what texts are permitted.

Please be aware that misreading your timetable will not be accepted as a reason for missing an examination.

Module	Examination paper code and title	Sct	Length	RdTime	OpBook	Date	Time	Room	Seat
CS404	CS4041 Agent Based Systems (MSc students)	n/a	2hr 0mins	n/a	n/a	13 May 2019	09:30	Westwood Games Hall	41
CS918	CS9180 Natural Language Processing	n/a	2hr 0mins	n/a	n/a	16 May 2019	09:30	Panorama Room, Rootes Building	39
CS409	CS4091 Algorithmic Game Theory (MSc students)	n/a	3hr 0mins	n/a	n/a	22 May 2019	09:30	Rootes Restaurant Area	30
CS402	CS4021 High Performance Computing (MSc students)	n/a	2hr 0mins	n/a	n/a	30 May 2019	14:00	Main Hall, Old Sports Centre	173
CS909	CS9091 Data Mining (MSc students)	n/a	2hr 0mins	n/a	n/a	31 May 2019	09:30	Desso Hall, Old Sports Centre	74
CS910	CS9101 Foundations of Data Analytics (MSc students)	n/a	2hr 0mins	n/a	n/a	01 Jun 2019	09:30	Main Hall, Old Sports Centre	44

Please ensure you print a copy of your timetable.

Sectioned examination papers: These are papers which examine more than one module. You may be taking more than one section, in which case the paper code appears on your personal timetable for each module you are taking and may appear to be a clash. If the paper codes are the same, this is not an examination clash. The length of your examination will be the total lengths of each section you are taking.

Identification: You must take your University card, or other form of photo-ID to your examinations. The invigilators will check your ID.

Examination regulations: the regulations have changed this year. These are available online at: <https://warwick.ac.uk/services/gov/calendar/section2/regulations/examregs/#10.2>

Please ensure you read the regulations before your examinations.

Bilingual dictionaries: If your first language is not English you may use a bilingual dictionary in some examinations. You must provide your own dictionary and it must be approved for use in examinations by your Department. Invigilators will check bilingual dictionaries to ensure they have been approved and will remove any which have not been approved by your Department. The use of a bilingual dictionary which has not been approved is a breach of regulation and this will be reported to the Academic Registrar and action may be taken.

You are permitted to take the examination paper from the examination room if this is stated on the front page of the paper. All other examination materials must be left in the examination room.

Language Centre examinations: These are organized by the Language Centre and are not included in this timetable.

If you have any queries regarding your examinations, please contact the Examination Team on AOExams@warwick.ac.uk